“ I remember your contagious excitement, your laughter and the way you had a sense of putting people at ease. You were always reassuring in your way that things would fall together for my internship and always supportive. I miss our days in Guatemala when we were able to explore, teach and learn together. You made such a great impact on the world around you.

“ A loving sister, a caring friend, a great listener, a happy girl yan ang mga ilang katangian na iniwan ni cha sa mata ng mga nagmamahal sakanya. Sadyang napaka hirap tanggapin na ika'y sumakabilang buhay na ngunit ang salitang ito ay panandalian lamang kung kaya't salamat sa mga panahon na ibinuhos mo para sa amin dito sa lupa at magkita tayo muli sa kabilang buhay. I love you friend!

“ Cha, hindi ko alam kung paano ito sisimulan. Paano nga ba mamaalam sa isang kaibigan?

Bawat ala-ala ko sayo, lahat nakakatuwa. I will always cherish those fond memories of you. Naaalala ko yung mga panahong inaabot tayong tatlo nila Gianne ng alas tres ng umaga sa telepono talking about the same stuff and always laughing kahit iyon nga, paulit ulit at panis na ang kwento. Parang hindi ata uso sa atin ang 3-joke rule dahil kahit sampung beses i deliver yung joke ay tatawa pa rin tayo. Ganon lang parati at parang napakasimple ng lahat. Low maintenance ka kasing kaibigan, hindi ka demanding o matampuhin at lalong hindi ka madamot sa oras mo. Minsan nga itutulog mo na lang, bigla ka naming aambushin sa bahay niyo. Tapos ayon na, magkekwentuhan na naman tayo and talk about the same things hanggang madaling araw -over the sisig you cooked (uyyyyy pwede na mag-asawa!) and ube na gawa ni tita. Masayang masaya tayo non. Tumatawa lang at walang problema.

Cha, salamat sa pagiging sweet at thoughtful na kaibigan. Naalala ko pa dati, binigyan mo ako ng "starry starry" shorts na wala namang okasyon, may kasama pang letter mula sayo. Bawat taon rin kahit na andiyan ka na sa States hindi ka nakakalimot na bumati sakin. Yon pang greetings mo personalized talaga, eh kung tutuusin ay pwede namang generic na happy birthday lang o kung talagang nagmamadali ka ay "hbd" na lang. Pero hindi ka ganon, parati kang nag-eeffort; you always make us feel special.

Salamat sa pagkakaibigan Cha. Salamat sa panahon at sa pagiging mapagbigay mo sa iyong sarili. Sabi nga ni Gianne, para kaming nawalan ng isang limb sa pagkawala mo. Pero nauna ka man mapalapit sa mga bituin sa langit, I find solace in knowing you lived a happy life. Salamat sa lahat lahat. Mahal kita, at hinding hindi kita makakalimutan.

“ I’ll always think of you with a smile on my face, Cha. All I have are happy memories of you. Remember when Jenny and I were at your house one night, we stayed up talking and laughing and laughing and laughing like there was no tomorrow. And just when our gases ran out, you cooked us canned sisig! I even joked, “Wow, Cha, pwede ka na mag-asawa kasi marunong ka na magluto.” You said something like, “Magluto... ng sisig? Puro sisig.” Laughter once again ensued when we named everything you can do with sisig — adobong sisig, nilagang sisig, piniritong sisig. Oh, those were the best times.

When you left for the States, I knew it would be nearly impossible for us to have any follow up to those great nights, but you surprised me one day with a birthday card. I was deeply touched. It was snail mail and I can’t believe you went through all that trouble just for my birthday. For years, I thought of doing the same thing for you. But for those same years, I kept putting it off until I forgot. Now that you’re gone, I’ve realized, ang dami kong “sana”, ang dami kong “dapat”, ang dami kong “kung alam ko lang.” Even in your passing, you’ve helped me place things into perspective. But however hard or long I think about it, there’s really nothing I can do now but thank the heavens for welcoming you there.

You are one of my rare friends, who, no matter how much time has passed or how things have changed, can always carry on from where we left off. It’s sad that you’re not with us anymore, but we’ll carry on for you. I will find comfort in knowing that you’ve lived your life, a good life. As long as you were happy, that’s all that counts. You’ve achieved so much in your career, you’ve seen the world, and in your final moments, you were with your loving family.

Thank you, Cha, for everything. I love you and I miss you, forever. I will see you on the other side, my friend. Until then.

“ We cant still believe that you're gone. It brings me back to the days that we were just laughing and carefree. Do you still remember our 'Backstreet boys' shot near the retreat house? We kept on laughing when the photo was taken. Mukha kasi tayong tanga, who cares, we didnt even care at all. Talking with you over the phone almost every night always gives me some relief and medicine. Lagi mo ako napapatawa kahit walang nakakatawa. We always laugh out loud until we get tired. I remember we always organize our quarterly 'lakads' when we were still in highscool. I also remember that when you surprised me on my 16th bday in school. You made a mango float. Sabi mo pa, "sana mapasaya kita sa bday mo" and you did. And I have tons of memories with you, happy memories w you. You were one of the reasons why I enjoyed highscool and why our highscool was memorable. We will miss you... ;,(

“ The sudden sickness and passing of our sister in the Lord. So, young but not without hope - she graduated and finished her course. God knows what is best.

Although, we wanted to go to Indiana for part of the 3 Day Thanksgiving early this month I thank God that I was able to see Sis Cha celebrating and giving thanks to God with her father, mother, sister and brother-in-law along with many other brethren in our locale of Chicago and brethren throughout the world.

“ Charisse you have been a wonderful friend. You are funny, kind, smart, bright, young woman. I wish I had more time with you. Thank you for the time you have given to me and for being a part of my life. I will surely miss your smile, laughter, sense of humor, charm, crazy antics, passion in life, open mindedness, and the other side of you, I never got to know. Thank you for being a good listener, for your understanding, and for being you. You have been amazing to me.
