“ It shocking news to hear that Chris is no longer with us, I met Chris at Baxter he was a wonderful person always with a smile on his face, very helpful in any way he could, I used to call up from Baxter Canada and there Chris was with an answer for me.

My thoughts and prayers are with the family through these grief moments. may his soul rest in peace.

“ I have only met Christopher once at his mother's retirement party. As I saw him interacting with others, he appeared to be a very personable young man. His mother, Arleen, has spoken of him many times and I'm glad I had an opportunity to have met him. My sincere condolences go out to his wife, daughter, son, and his mother, whom I consider to be a dear friend. Christopher is now at peace and watching over you. Make him proud!

“ It is with deepest sympathy to see that Chris has passed away. What an incredible man he was, always a smile and a big hello. I worked with Chris for many years at Baxter and would see him every once in a while in a store. He will be greatly missed.

My deepest condolences on the loss of such a wonderful man!

“ It has been about 20 years since I have seen Chris, but was terribly saddened to hear of his passing. While working with him at Golfview he left an indelible impression on all of us as being a stand up guy, always doing the right thing. Always smiling! My heartfelt condolences to Mayla and the family..

“ We’ve all heard the expression, the good guys finish last.
Chris, was one of the good guys that finished first.

Working next to Chris was always a good day for me.

He had one of those good personalities / voices that you could listen to all day, (partially because I had no choice, my work cube was in the same area his, ha). Hearing his voice made you smile.

Chris and I would share computer stories as often as we could during breaks. I could listen to him all day. Many times we had to break away from each other so we wouldn’t get yelled at from our superiors.

Many times he would talk above my knowledge on computers, but still enjoyed listening and learning.

In the past, I’ve have bought electronic items from Chris. One of the items that I still have and use is the big screen projector for the backyard movies we have with the neighbor kids (and now our grandkids) during the summer.

Every time I use it, I think of Chris and tell the story where I got it.

He had so much energy, maybe that’s why we all loved talking to him.

I never saw him with a sad look on that man.

He would love talking with his hands.

We all miss him!

“ I had the fortunate opportunity to meet Chris as he interviewed for a position with me for Medical Information. He was transitioning from the Pump Service group and had received rave reviews from management. He was always respectful, thoughtful, helpful and considerate. He will be dearly missed; my thoughts and prayers for the family.
