“ While seeking Help from a difficult divorce in 1997 I joined a group called Help Mates. Don was one of the group leaders. Don was very insightful and always helpful. He always came up with analogies that helped us see things in different ways. We all would gather on Friday nights at Borders in Schaumburg for conversation and card games. There were many house gatherings and outings, fun times. I have not seen Don in many years and would like his family to know he has never been forgotten by many of us.

“ I met Don many years ago at an organization called Young Single Parents. I would see him at our socials and various events. After YSP closed, some of us formed a monthly dinner group to keep in touch. Don was part of that dinner group. He was a nice man, very intelligent, witty and always a gentleman. He will be missed.
