Aunt Evelyn will be missed. Her infectious laugh and smile - always so beautiful. These are pictures from Christina (Silhavy) McBride's wedding March 18, 1995. I can only imagine what Uncle Bob must have been saying! His beautiful wife is with him now - sharing stories of their travels.....Rest in Peace

“ It is with a heavy heart that we learned the news that darling Evelyn had passed away. She was one of our all-time favorite friends and guests on board the most wonderful and exotic train trips that we offered through our travel agency, The Society of International Railway Travelers . She was always the life of the party. Always the most interested in whatever the guides were revealing about the local people and culture. Always loved every bit of every train trip. And on one of our last journeys together, she was among the oldest passengers on board. And at the end of the evening, we were all dragging back to our hotel rooms, quite tired, and Evelyn was not having it. "Come on! Eleanor & Owen! We HAVE to go to the Bamboo Bar! A famous jazz singer from Chicago, her home town, was singing with his band. He sand all of her favorites. We were in Bangkok, Thailand at the Bangkok Mandarin Oriental Hotel. I can hear her say it now: "This place is so beautiful I could live here." Well, Evelyn made friends far and wide wherever she went -- on the trains, in the towns, in the little villages. Everywhere. We loved Evelyn. May she rest in sublime peace. And may she continue to swing to sublime jazz...Love to her family from her loved ones in Louisville, KY, Eleanor & Owen Hardy
