“ Fred was always class gentleman. I worked across the hall from him for about 15 years. He was generous - always polite and considerate. He will be missed by many.

“ Oh, Fred! What a guy you are! Every call started with, "Well, Hello, Ann, this is your Uncle Fred. Man, your father is a great man and friend. Now I don't wana take up alot of your time." He was so hilarious without trying, kind by nature, and the BEST at his job. I am so extremely sorry for this great loss to the family but he and Ailene are together now. I so enjoyed being on a cruise with them and of course, having them at our wedding in Mexico. God bless the family to find peace soon. All the love of The DeJulio/Halleck household. Love, Annie and Brad

Dear Heather and Eric...please know how much I treasure well over a 40 year span of friendship, both business and social with your father. He was always so proud of both of you, as well as your grandmother, all of whom who have survived him. Now he and Aline are reunited at last. You were both Angels to him, and now he has become our Guardian Angel. My husband, Dr. Paul and I loved him, will miss him, and I will carry his voice and spirit in my heart. He was my dearest Golf Buddy and friend. We send our blessings to Fred and to you both. God Speed. May he RIP. With friendship and love, Judy Adams Arndt

"I am so deeply sorry for your loss. As a new insurance agent, Fred was my anchor. He met me at daybreak with wisdom and a calm presence that gave me the confidence to start my day. He truly believed that if the mind could conceive it, we could achieve it—and he helped me believe in myself". Fred was a rare soul who could lift a person up without saying a word. His mastery of silence and his morning encouragement outside the office meant the world to me. He taught me more about being a good person and a professional through his quiet strength than anyone else ever has." "I wanted to share a moment that changed my perspective forever. After my father passed, I told Fred I wanted to change my last name to my father's. Fred sat in a long, thoughtful silence before simply saying, 'If you only knew how much your grandfather loved you.'

In that quiet moment, he helped me see the bigger picture of my family's love. He had a way of saying very little but changing everything. I will always be grateful for his wisdom and the way he lifted me up at daybreak outside the office." Rest in Peace Fred.
