“ *Guenther Family, I worked with Jaclyn at both Viacom and Hulu. I was shocked and saddened to hear about her passing, what a horrible loss. She was always a brightspot at both companies -- smart, strategic, positive and friendly... well liked by both offices. All of our lives are better for having crossed her path. “ It’s difficult to write this and share just one memory with Jacki and I. We shared endless laughs together and I considered her a best friend in some of the toughest years of my life. She was funny, incredibly smart and a true lover of the coolest music, even if she did give me a hard time for not knowing the words (even though I thought I did), basketball games and Taylor Street pizza slices. We lost touch in college, but I always wished her well and wanted nothing but the best for her. Sean and I share our deepest condolences. It weighs heavy in our hearts that we were far and couldn’t be there to celebrate her life. Jacki and your family will remain in our hearts and minds during this especially trying time.

“ To all Jacki's family-

I am deeply sorry for your loss. Jacki was a dear friend to me since the first day we spent together at Purdue. She was fun and spunky, she never failed to make me or her other Purdue friends laugh. I will forever cherish the memories we had together from Purdue to beach dates last summer. To the time we took our dad's to a frat party tailgate and everything in between, these memories of Jacki will be with me forever.

*Will my deepest condolences,

“ Jacki was my coworker at WarnerMedia. The two of us were brought on to the team at the same time and, in her, I had a colleague and friend with whom to share the learning, the questions, the trials and successes. She was a sounding board and source of encouragement for me, a presence I tried each day to be for her in turn. Though we never met in person, we had weekly catch-ups every Friday via video where we discussed both work and life and in those moments we grew the closest. I looked forward to our talks every week, to her light and positivity, to celebrating her wins in every walk of life. Jacki grew to be much more than a workmate and she will be sorely missed.

Joe - this is Jacki's dad. I've read your beautiful memory more than once. If I can get through it I plan to read it at her service tomorrow. Thank you. You'll never know how much it means to her family to hear those kind words.
