“ This is a poem written by Kel...

*As the rain falls, the air begins to cool.
A gentle breeze flows through the window.
The fresh smell that follows a strike of lightning that can be heard in the distance. Thunder soon to follow, rumbling that fills the room. A comfort that slowly creeps in. Reminiscent of waking in your bed as a child.
Knowing you're safe and nothing to harm you just a sense of peace.*

“ Death is nothing at all

I have only slipped away to the next room.

I am I, and you are you.

Whatever we were to each other, That, we still are.

Call me by my old familiar name.

Speak to me in the easy way which you always used.

Put no difference into your tone.

Wear no forced air of solemnity or sorrow.

Laugh as we always laughed

at the little jokes, we enjoyed together.

Play, smile, think of me. Pray for me.

Let my name be ever the household word that it always was.

Let it be spoken without effect.

Without the trace of a shadow on it.

Life means all that it ever meant.

It is the same that it ever was.

There is absolute unbroken continuity.

Why should I be out of mind because I am out of sight?

I am but waiting for you.

For an interval.

Somewhere. Very near.

Just around the corner.

All is well.

Thanks for being incredibly unique and true to your self like no other.

Between the dawn and the dark of night
And if you go, no one may follow
That path is for your steps alone".*

“ Kelly, girl. You were a sparkle. You knew how to be human, how to treat people, how to make them laugh. And, boy, did you make me laugh. You always made my day better. You always helped. You made the best Americano and remembered everyone's favorites. You always doted on your family. I keep listening to "Song of the Sea", which would probably make you, a punk-rock kindda girl, burst out laughing, but it's beautiful and Celtic, like you. You had the best laughter: ringing, contagious, room-filling. "It will be as if, in place of the stars, I had given you a great number of little bells that knew how to laugh . . ." My heart goes out to your loved ones. I will never not miss you.
