

Mr. Leslie James Shear of Streamwood

January 11, 1943 - January 29, 2026

Leslie "Les" Shear, 83, of Streamwood, Illinois..

Leslie Shear, Loving husband of Annie Marie Shear, nee Davis; devoted father of Laura (Brian) Urbaszewski and the late Helen Marie (Guy) Bartlett; cherished grandfather of Julian and Lucia; beloved brother of the late Catherine (the late Bill) Crow, the late Joan (Paul) Johnson and the late Dr. John (Sandy) Shear.

Leslie was born and grew up in North Argyle, New York on a small dairy farm. After completing high school he served our country as an Air Force radar technician on the Gulf Coast and in North Carolina. While in North Carolina he met the love of his life, Marie. They were married on July 9, 1966 and moved back to New York.

After leaving the service, Leslie completed his college degree in English Language and Literature while working as a factory maintenance technician and raising a family in North Argyle. In 1974, he felt a spiritual call to ministry in the Presbyterian Church (USA) and moved with his family to attend University of Dubuque Theological Seminary in Iowa. He completed Master's Degrees at University of Dubuque Theological Seminary and at Aquinas Institute of Theology, and was ordained a minister of the Presbyterian Church (USA) in 1977. As a pastor he served several congregations at churches in Ohio, Illinois, Kansas, and Pennsylvania. In 1984 he was recognized for his work as a Christian Educator for the Huntington Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church (USA) in Pennsylvania. In this role he travelled to many churches, training Sunday school teachers and pastors in christian education. As a pastor, he performed countless baptisms, weddings, and funerals and wrote thousands of sermons. He created and ran after-school and Sunday school programs for children and teens. In Tennessee he was called to be pastor at Rocky Springs Presbyterian Church in Sevierville, and he formed a special bond with that church community. Later in life, after he and Marie settled in Knoxville, Tennessee, he transitioned from church pastor to chaplain, and served as a chaplain for Shannondale Senior Living Community. As a chaplain, he was well loved for his kindness, humor, and ability to connect with people.

Marie and Les enjoyed 59 years of happy marriage and many adventures together. He was a loving and committed husband and father to his two daughters. His family has happy memories of him telling stories, building things like a treehouse and sandbox for his children, and playing games like the big kid he always claimed to be. They also remember visits with relatives and Summer family camping trips around the US. After retirement he enjoyed travelling and was able to take trips with Marie to Iceland, Holland, Scotland, and other destinations. He always enjoyed meeting people and talking with folks wherever he went.

Leslie loved reading, music, western books and movies, “dad jokes” and travel. His creativity was never ending and his creative endeavors included creating puppet and clowning ministries, teaching himself to play guitar, songwriting, and poetry. He was deeply devoted to his family and to serving the Lord. He spent much time in bible study and reflection and his faith in Jesus Christ was the guiding light of his life. His kindness and sincerity as well as his goofy sense of humor will be missed by all. Those who knew him will always remember his resilience in hard times, his commitment to service, his kindness, and his love.

“ Who would have thought a boy from a small dairy farm in New York would find the love of his life in the hills of North Carolina. WOW. And what an adventure they began. Marie is my cousin, my friend, and neighbor. I remember when she talked about the first time she met Les. She was in love. I am thankful for the wonderful years the Lord gave them together, and I pray for Marie as she continues as the strong woman I know she is. Praying for the family for their loss.
