“ John & Louie, Jr-Your dad was like a father to me and the best boss I ever had. When I visited him several years ago, he was on the phone with Jerry Frost, who worked for your dad about the time he first opened. Then, while we talked he got a phone call from Carlos Campizzi, who cooked during the time I was also there in the 1960s. Both of these fellows really cared about your dad. Just like you grew and matured in the restaurant, so did I. John, I remembered the evening your mom was going to a wedding and dressed to the nines and your comments. I remember Carmie the night he went to see the Beatles at Comiskey Park. Louie, I remember talking to you at Jumbo Johns, when you were helping your dad run the restaurant. I remember your dad driving Lavern crazy, the card games, his brother's visits, Joe Razutto (the cop). When his sister was at the St Ann hospital, he had me take her some Italian ice. He was funny, caring, a wonderful guy...he will be missed.
