“ I was Martin's advisor at Olivet, and taught his Finance classes. I loved having him in class and talking with him in my office afterwards. It was a pleasure and an honor to be teach him. I enjoyed his attitude, enthusiasm, and willingness to participate in class. He will be deeply missed. It hurt to get the news, and I know the rest of the faculty feel the same way. There's so much more that I want to say but just don't have enough room to talk about how great Martin was. The one thing I will say is his spiritual life was tue most Important part in his life. I'm sorry for your loss. We've been praying for you and will continue to do so.

“ We met Martin when he came to our home in Arizona with our daughter Brianna and their friend group from Olivet. He always had a smile, was polite, and had a great sense of humor. One evening we were preparing a huge fish fry and I discovered that Martin did not like fish. When I asked him if his dislike was from taste or texture, he stated “both”. Being the mom that I am, I told him not to worry that he should only try the halibut, which is the texture of chicken and a very mild fish taste, which he pleasantly and unexpectedly liked. That was the beginning of getting to know and appreciate Martin. He and all his friends became a part of our family and made a mark on our hearts. When we learned of Martin’s illness and hospitalizations, we prayed for him. We also thanked God for him when he showed love to our daughter, by driving to pick her up at night in Chicago to make sure that she was safe. Martin cares about his friends and that was evident in his actions. When we learned of his death we grieved for him and for his friends. Martin will be missed. In reflection, I pray that all of us who knew Martin might not only remember what Christ like qualities that Martin displayed in his joy for life and his protective love for others, but that we might also incorporate those qualities that he did well into our own life.
