“ I can honestly say Mary Ann and Pat are my oldest friends. We did not talk often but we were always in each others hearts. I grew up down the block and we played Man from Uncle and Honey West. We made forts in the backyard as we hung bed sheets from the fence and pulled the sheet across the sidewalk which we secured with books. We placed rugs on the sidewalk and brought in dolls and stuffed animals. Later we would eat lunch in the fort.

I loved the old house with the fireplace which did not go anywhere. I remember Mary Ann's Mom doing laundry in the kitchen and using the rolling device to get the water out of the clothes before hanging in the backyard. This was the first time I ever ate pizza. I don't know how many trips we made down the block to the corner store. Along the side of the building we walked on an angled piece of cement so we would not touch the sidewalk or we would "die". Mary Ann always held Jesus in her heart. On those few times over the years we got together she spoke of her faith in Campus Crusade or Jesus. We would laugh and we would cry because we knew where each other came from. Mary Ann had such a deep soul. I have loved this lady all my life but I know she is dancing with Jesus and so today I celebrate for her. She is Home!
