“ My deepest condolences to Mr. Hammond's family.

I personally never met Mr. Hammond, but I feel a deep regard and infinite gratitude I can't find the words to explain.

My mom worked with Mr. Hammond and 27 years ago in a moment of empathetic thy and compassion he unknowingly saved my life.

At at time when certain laws hadn't yet been made laws, company policies hadn't been made official, my mom almost lost her job, for no other reason than to take care of me. I had been recently diagnosed with an incurable, manageable, but incurable disease. At which point Mr. Hammond came across my mom, distraught, feeling helpless because she had just been given the warning speech. Then Mr. Hammond told my mom to breath, relax and then gave her some advice and told her not to worry he would would help.

Needless to say, not much later the company policy changed and ironically so did the laws. Which allowed my mom more flexibility to care for me and keep her job.

It was that one day, that one moment of compassion he would unknowingly be someone remembered and thanked by one little girl and her mother as long as they both lived.

Neville was a pillar of a man. In addition to all that he did to help build H.F., I remember him as a guy who loved to drive his Corvette, play golf, and smoke his cigarettes. He always looked out for all of his employees and was a loved figure where ever he went. You will be missed.
