“ I was fortunate to have worked with Nick for almost three years. in that time i found him to be not only a great engineer and work partner, but also a dedicated family man and a great person all around. My sincerest warm thoughts go out to his wife and kids and rest of the family. He will be missed but left a positive impression on all that knew him.

“ My sincere condolences. I was lucky to have worked with Nick on many projects. I was so professional and incredibly knowledgeable. I always trusted his opinion and approach, and enjoyed discussing ideas and possibilities with him.
I wish I could of gotten to know him more personally.

I will miss him a lot.

“ Nick was not only an exceptional boss, but a remarkable human being. I learned so much from him/his dedication, his work ethic, and his relentless drive inspired everyone around him. He had a rare ability to lead with strength in times of pressure while still treating people with kindness and respect.

But beyond his hard-working spirit, what I will remember most is the person he was: friendly, caring, and always ready to talk, laugh, or share a story. He made every day brighter just by being himself.

I will forever admire the example he set, and I am grateful for every lesson, every conversation, and every moment spent learning from him. He will be truly missed, but his impact will continue to live on in all of us who had the privilege of knowing him.

May you find comfort in the love and memories he leaves.

“ I learned a tremendous amount from Nick over the last 24 years and we've had a lot of laughs during that time, as well. He gave me confidence through reassurance in ways that, honestly, no one else really ever had. I will miss our "therapy" talks on days when one of us is having a rough one and could rely on the other to cheer them up, usually by quoting a Tarantino film or an old Tom & Jerry cartoon. Or, just chatting about how our families are doing and all of our kids' accomplishments. I was looking forward to golfing with him on the back-nine of our lives, as he was just getting into the game and I thought I could pay him back for all of his teachings and generosity with occasional golf tips and beers.

Nick - I hope we get the chance to share those rounds in the next life. I hope we get to watch Tarantino's whole catalog while tipping a few cold ones. Until then, I hope you're selling ice cream on a beach somewhere, like you always mentioned.

Rest well, my friend.

“ Last time I saw Nick was when we were at Uncle Steven's Celebration of Life. My conversation with Nick about growing up and the things he remembered just blew me away. I was so proud of the person he had grown up to be and the man he had become. My heart is broken for Aunt Lydia and Uncle Nick and Ana. I understand how beautiful he was and you all were so blessed to have him in your life. For his wife and children, may his warmth and love be felt by you always. - Kathrine Pfister

“ I was just getting to know Nick more closely over the past 7 months. We started working together in spring and we talked every other day. Our kids went to the same Polish school on Fridays. We had a really fun time over the summer with work related outings, etc. I was really happy to have Nick as a co-worker and was excited about growing our friendship into the future. He was a person with tremendous work ethic, experience, and a great personality. He will be greatly missed.

“ I have known Nick for 25 years. Working with him off/on over that time span. I had talked to him the Monday before he left and we talked about getting together for dinner when he got back from vacation. Always talking about Agnes and the kids. How well they were doing. I am going to miss those calls. Until we see each other again my friend. ~ Dan

“ I have known Nick for over 25 years. He and I worked together for most of them.
He was a great friend, very knowledgeable and competent engineer and an amazing colleague/mentor.
I know he dearly loved his family.
I thought these two very different pictures of Nick and I together sum up our relationship through the years perfectly. We worked very well together for over 2 decades and in that relationship, we also were friends.
I will miss him greatly.

My prayers are with his family.
