“ Pramila will be in our memory lanes forever. Warm smile, kind hearted and fun loving soul. She reached out with warmth , grace and genuine nature to check on friends. We shared so much besides being from native land, mother tongue, spiritual experiences and warmth of a neighbor and friend . She genuinely complimented and offered warmth while she was ill. We all miss you dearly Pramila and all our conversations ! Om shanti ! Here’s to a peaceful journey my friend.

“ Today, I am here not only to mourn, but to honor the beautiful soul of my Prami pinni. Even in her illness, she showed us the courage that words cannot measure. She carried her pain with grace, teaching us that true strength is not in fighting loudly, but in holding love and smile, even in suffering. Her smile could soften the heaviest days, her words could soothe restless hearts. Though her journey here has ended, her love is stitched into the fabric of our lives. I will miss her more and more But she has not left us — she has simply become part of the sky, watching over us like a mother watching her children play. So let's not say goodbye with sorrow alone. Let us remember her laughter, her kindness, and her unshakable strength. And carry her love forward, so that in every act of care, in every gentle word, her spirit will continue to live.”

Love Prami Pinni

“ Pramila was not just a friend-she was family .she had the most caring heart ,always putting others before herself, when I was going through one of the hardest times in my life, it was pramila who stood by me -bringing food , checking in everyday praying for my family, and making sure my family was okay.
her love for our kids , her energy, her consistent encouragement-those are the gifts she leaves behind.

“ Pramila was a bright shining star. Whenever I have attended the community events I knew there would be Pramila with her warm smile. She was kind and inclusive. She was very very special. And when you are that special everyone wants you including God and hence she has flown away . I feel her presence somehow; I think she knows she is missed. May her beautiful soul rest in peace.

“ Pramilia known as prami in our family was one of my wonderful aunts. She wasn't just a aunt but a conqueror and blessing. Someone who seemed like they can down from paradise. She conquered our hearts so easily because she is a warrior. In a cursed world of illnesses and diseases she was able to fight. To fight super hard. People like those only come in a decade and leave people behind decades. In fact I can't even process that she is gone. I wish I could I accept that she flew like a bird but I won't. I won't accept that a person like that should fly freely away from my heart. But I won't stop her. In this auspicious funeral I wish her a happy journey. Even though she is leaving for the afterlife I still believe she is connected to me somehow. Like the coffee I drink in the morning or when I sing. She will always resonate in my heart. Thank you and have a good journey prami
