“ Dear Brown Family,
The whole Janke clan was very saddened to hear about Mr. Brown. I have a little story of my own of Mr. Brown: I am a R.N. at GSH, Mr. Brown had just come out of surgery and I was his Recovery Room nurse...
It was a painful surgery, but he never complained, I kept telling him to OPEN his eyes, and when he did I saw the most beautiful BLUE eyes! Then I tested him....What are the names of your children? He replied, “Bill, Ellen, Mike.....I said your missing 1
And he replied OMG BOBBY! He LOVED you guys more than anything!!!! My prayers are with you , Love, Sue Janke

“ Dear Mrs. B, Bill, Bobby, Ellen and Michael. I'm so sorry to hear of your loss. Mr. B was an awesome man who always reminded me of my own Dad. My favorite memory of him was during a camp out. I walked up from behind and mistook him for my Dad and said “Hey Pop!” as I started rubbing his shoulders. He barked at me “Who are you callin’ ‘Pop’?!” Totally taken by surprise, I jumped back and started to apologize when he said “Well don't stop now!” A gruff, boisterous man of great warmth and humor. I feel like I've lost a part of my own family.
God Bless you all and take care.

“ Dear Ellen; I'm so sorry for the loss of your dad, friend and hero. There are no works that I've ever found that would make this loss any easier. However, I can offer a listening ear and a hugs whenever you need! One thing I've picked up on from little chats with you, is your dad packed a suite case full of Love with him. That is the only thing you can take with you and your dad, friend and hero took I'm sure more than one case full of LOVE! Hugs to you and your family in this difficult time. May God be near all of you.

“ My Hero. My friend. My father. I will miss your jokes and your ability to push every one of my buttons (some I was not even aware of.) How you made me laugh when you knew where this road was taking you is beyond me... You said to never say Good-Bye, but instead say, “See you later.” It is my turn to say, “I hope so.” Thanks for being my Dad, my friend, my hero.
