“ Mom, words can't express the way I'm going to miss you. I'm your first born. You had me so young that we grew up together. I'm so thankful for that. You taught me so much insight on life and I taught you so much making us both grow becoming best friends and mother and daughter. But 24 years wasn't enough time with you. There was still so much more in life I had to share with you. It aches my heart to know you won't be there for all my future endeavors, but I know you'll always be with me in my heart through it all. The way life took you so young wasn't right. You are one of the strongest women I know so beautiful, so caring, sweet, funny, and so much more. The world will never know who you truly were they all got glimpses of you. I'm so beyond grateful to have shared that everyday experience of who you truly were. I got to see the all bad and all the good being by your side. I miss your laugh that would echo a room and make everyone around laugh. I loved your silly nature and little jokes. I loved how you would fight the world to make sure we were okay even if it meant you not be okay, you were always trying to protect your family, your heart so pure. I'm so grateful and blessed to have spent the time I did with you. Late night hours talks about life or just talking in general for hours just us. Time flew by so fast we didn't even realize how long we talked. How I'm going to miss just having the ability of talking with you. It saddens me with great pain to know you're not just a phone call away anymore. Our relationship was one of a kind. We were best friends, mother and daughter, and sometimes we butt heads but that's what a true relationship looks like. We confided in each other like no other. You'll always and forever be in my heart mom.

“ To my beautiful sister, Stephanie. I have no words to accurately express the pain from your loss. I grew up protecting you, fighting with you and loving you. I will keep your memory and sensitive, sweet soul alive. I will always remember how you laughed, and how we insisted in singing our silly songs. When us three sisters got together, there was no stopping our laughs and storytelling. I miss you so much! I can't believe you are gone forever. My heart breaks thinking about how you suffered and were in pain for many years. You did not deserve the horrible ills you battled everyday. Despite the turmoil, you consistently loved us all. There was no question how much you loved your children and how much they loved you. None of us will ever be the same without you. I pray will all my might that you are at peace. I love you so much and I will miss you always. Love you big sister, Ivette.

“ Mom you always tried to call me as much as possible and I tried to pick up as much as I could but when we would talk you would always remind me how I was your only Boy and how much I meant to you and how proud you were to have one and you always told me that i could achieve anything as long as i worked hard for it and I've always kept that with me. I love you mom rest in peace.

“ Mom not a day goes by that i don't think of you. I'm missing you more than ever and i can't believe that your gone. I'm so sorry for the pain and suffering that you were going through for many years and i'm so sorry i wasn't by your side through every step i wish i was though mom and i wish i could've done more for you as your daughter. i miss your laugh your beautiful smile and the joy you would always bring to the table. You were a great mom and u always doubted yourself saying you were not. I wouldn't trade you for another mother and i'm blessed to be your daughter and i'm blessed to have you as my mother, even though you are no longer here i still feel your love and your guidance your spirit lives on with me forever, I wish i could've hugged you kissed you and said i loved you. my heart aches for you mom i love you so much you were too young to go but i know your not in pain anymore and your with mama in heaven, you will forever be in my heart. fly high mommy may you rest in peace.
