“ As the hour draws near to say our final good-bye... you will be truly missed. From your infectious laugh and your beautiful smile, you were such a wonderful loving person. I am glad I had the chance of knowing you and being able to call you my friend. For all the laughs and great times we shared, you will always be remembered by me. xoxo

“ Oh Val, when I think of you, so much rushes to my mind.... Those twinkling green eyes and the laughter that came so easily. With you I had a kindred spirit - a big kid at heart. I will never forget how excited you were when I got you the Nerf machine gun for Christmas a couple years ago (and how you eventually made me order you extra nerf bullets when half of them got lost - another story lol), And you had such a HUGE heart - you were the first to offer help when anyone had a problem and you actually jumped up and down and clapped you hands you were so excited when I told you I was getting married. And then your excited text New Year's Eve with your news... I could go on for pages. Still can't believe you are gone, but I firmly believe that those that we love are always with us, so I will hold these memories close for now and Val, till we meet again...

“ Dear LaGrant and Ziebell family,

Val was such a beautiful woman inside and out. She was more than a friend to me and I still feel like I can just pick up the phone and she will be there. She always put a smile on my face and I would always look forward to our conversations and eating at our favorite burger restaurant. We would both soak our French fries with cheese and laugh at our big mess. We would regret having eaten it, but it was always so much fun! I would laugh at her stories of how she killed a spider the night before or when she would scream for me to kill a spider for her at work. I remember taking my shoes off a few times for her so I could kill them. I even remember that Halloween was her most favorite time of the year and she would set up her decorations right on October 1st . She would tell me about every new skull that she would purchase because that was her favorite thing. She would ask me if I thought she was nuts for leaving her decorations up until Thanksgiving was near, but I told her it didn't matter. Whatever made her happy. These are some of the few memories I will always cherish about her, but most of all, I will miss her hugs and beautiful soul.

She would always tell me how much she loved all of you. Mrs. LaGrant, she would always get super excited when you would go have lunch together or even shopping over the weekends. She especially would love it when all of you would get together for your annual ravioli baking.

Blake, she loved you and Dylan so much. She was so happy when you proposed to her. She cried tears of joy and was looking forward to marrying you. She would show me her funny pictures of the boys and when they were going to go Trick or Treating for Halloween. She didn't care if you stayed home over the weekends. She just wanted your company.

All of us loved her and she will be cherished in our memories forever. My condolences. May our sweet Val rest in peace.

“ I will miss you Val !!! It was several months after we were regularly speaking on phone as part of work that I finally met you in Chicago 2 years ago. I always used to think "who is this friendly and bubbly person" and then was able to put a face to a name. You were always the "ever helpful". Rest in peace.

“ Fond memories of my childhood centered around my friendship with Val: cream of chicken soup (had to be Campbells) with ham and cheese (almost everyday, we even had a song about it), magnet stories (Mrs. L always had seasonal magnets on the fridge and I would make up stories as Val cooked the aforementioned meal) sleepovers, singing The Grease soundtrack, quoting Ferris, vacations to Wisconsin and Florida, walking to school together and then sitting on the bus to driving, dinners at eachother's houses and hanging with all the other kids in the neighborhood. Prayers for her family, her fiancée and their family. I will treasure the good times and always remember her smiling and laughing.

“ I worked with Val (or as we affectionately called each other 'FP' (favorite person) for all of the many years that she worked at Syclo. We worked together and got to together after hours with other friends to celebrate or just hang out. She was a dear friend and someone who was dedicated, loyal, and committed to her work. She would always go out of her way to help folks at work with details that she didn't even have to worry about, that was our Val. I remember too how happy and excited she was when she got engaged to Blake. We have lost a very dear lady - I miss her very much. Please accept my deepest sympathy. FP - Nancy Burke
