“ Hi Mom, it's Jaime. I'm seeing these electronic memory postings for the first time. I remember how isolated you were with that 2nd husband. These days I focus on how happy you were with a new partner and all the people back, meaning our friends and family, those last 10 years. The pets were icing on the cake. Now that I've learned and recovered a million things, I understand you, and I've missed you. I mourn the the conversations we could have had to relate. The improved mother son relationship we could have had. I still have the birthday card you gave me to encourage me to be free, and happy. I'm glad you thrived. Glad to see you smile those last two months when you walked into the office. Then you and Val gave each other a hug. The family has fallen apart, and remains fractured, but my heart is grateful you thrived those ten years. The on-call counselor made sure to convey to you that you raised a good strong man, and everything will be fine. She asked, "Do you believe that?" I'm grateful you were told this, and you said, " Yes." I know you told everyone you could you were worried about me. I hope this angel on call counselor gave you peace as you rested. Love you. I make sure I carve out a little time during the week to think about you and grieve for you. It makes my days better. Love you mucho

“ Vanessa, We will always miss your smile and gentle laugh. So very sorry we didn't know of events sooner or we would have been to say goodbye. We remember a terrific weekend in Wisconsin out in the woods, laughing and coloring and just hanging out. Your spirit will illuminate the UNIVERSE. We keep your memory in our hearts forever. Peace. May you enjoy your next adventure! We love you.

“ My heartfelt condolences. We are all with you in sharing your irreparable loss, which no words can really help to ease the loss you bear, just know that you are very close in every thought. We pray to God to give you courage, strength and support. Let her soul rest in peace in the feet of Almighty.
Just remember that you have your lifetime of memories, and keep those closes as they are your treasures which can never be lost or stolen. Also know you will always have a guardian angel by your side as she will always be with you.
Vanessa, I will miss you.

“ It was a blessing to me to have had her friendship. Her friendship will live on in my heart the rest of my life. I believe anyone who had the pleasure of her company carries her smile and gentle manner with them. I'll miss her encouragement and point of view, but her manner and her spirit will never cease to influence me, and many others. I hope, for her family and her friends, that the joy of having her in your lives far exceeds the sting of her passing. God keep blessing you all.

“ RIP mom, I will always miss you. Hasta hoy me entero de la muerte de tu mami. Nos conocimos en fb e intercambiamos algunos saludos y puse en su muro algunos de mis poemas. No tengo mas que decir si no que me embargo hasta mi alma esta noticia. Un fuerte abrazo para ti y para tu hermano...por favor saludos a tu abuelo. Jorge e Rueda

Greentown, Pennsylvania Nota: Le recordare simpre con esa bella sonrisa Thank you for the kind words Jorge concerning my mother, I really appreciate. I miss her so much and think about her everyday, which I obviously will for the rest of my life. Thanks again, Jorge E. Borda
