“ I would gladly journey a thousand miles again just to see your face light up with a smile. You who lived life simply, laughed heartily and loved greatly. The past 30 days have gone by in a whirlwind. I still can't believe you're gone; but God holds the widow and the faithful close to His heart and in the end, it was your prayer He heard and answered. You wanted no pain and suffering to cap a simple and joyful life rooted in Him. Seeing you pray earnestly and sing to God your favorite song in the final Mass of your life moved me. I am changed forever. You inspire me to remain unattached to worldly things, to have a grateful heart and most of all, to love and surrender to God above all things.

Thank you auntie for the wonderful memories and for your love. We will miss your sweet, candid, funny commentaries. It was a privilege holding your hand and praying for you as you took your last breath. You even woke me in a dream so I wouldn't miss the final hour of your earthly life. Down to the final moment, you were considerate and never wanted to inconvenience anyone. That was so classic of you.

We would not let you die alone. Childless you may be, you had all the love my siblings and I could give. Your last words, "I am safe", as you looked on at the three of us dotting over you, feeding you, talking to you over each other gave us so much comfort. Love was all we wanted you to feel because love is who you are and love is where you should be.

Could've, would've, should've. So many things I wish you could have experienced with us but God had already made his decision. It was time for you to come home. Yet, He allowed us to take you on that journey back to the US safely and oh what a victorious landing it was indeed! That journey binds us forever even long after you've gone home to our God.

I love you so so much auntie. Give Janey a tight hug for me. Run to the light and watch over us. I will surrender the sadness of missing you and will instead be comforted with the thought that one day, we will see each other again. And when that time comes, dear auntie, greet me and clear your throat the way you do for then I shall recognize your voice and know "I am safe". You always told me to enjoy, now it's your turn to do so in the company of Uncle Willy, Janey and our Lord Jesus. Enjoy your new home in heaven auntie. We love you. Love lives forever.

*Love,
Joy ('little girl')*

*"Do not be afraid, I am with you
I have called you each by name
Come and follow Me
I will bring you home
I love you and you are mine"*
