“ Where do I begin Wendy, you were the light of everyone's world including mine. I was blessed to know such a wonderful person as bright as you. Your family was so lucky to have you and I will continue to think of them as I continue to ask why. But we are not to understand the greater plan, I am glad you are at peace and you are in no pain anymore. Condolences to your son Jeremy and your Brother Pat and the many friends you had. Enjoy your ride in the sky it is not goodbye it is see you later.

“ I met Wendy in college, Fox College, alongside each other trying to nail down our shorthand and typing skills. With guaranteed job placement, we went on together to our first corporate job in a department for a manager who made us cry, literally. Wendy and I were there for each other and became friends. Our department closed down and we were offered other positions but said no, this was our opportunity to get the heck out of here lol. At that time, we chose different paths in corporate America and became successful. But never did I forget the time we had together. Jeremy was her baby and she loved him dearly. Always a warm heart and she made you laugh! I'm so sad for her passing, but I know she is no longer suffering. My prayers to the family.

“ I am so sorry I cannot be there to say my final goodbyes to you. I wish I could pick up the phone and talk to you once again. But I am so happy I was able to speak to you one last time while you waited to go to Northwestern. You were so positive and cheerful and we even laughed. I will forever treasure that phone call and all the memories of our childhood. I have spent days crying as I know you wanted to Live a fuller healthy life and how much you have gone through over so many years. I never thought I would lose you, my closest cousin. I know you will be ok now although hearts are breaking and tears are shed. You will be with our lived ones in Heaven. I pice you dear sweet cousin

“Jermei, my heart is broken for you and your family. I still cannot believe she has passed onto heaven. Your mother always had a smile on her face and you were the apple of her eye. You were her everything. I'm so grateful that I had the opportunity to know her as a friend and as a long time colleague. She will be missed by so many people. I know your mother is in loving brace with your grandpa and your uncle. She will always be looking over you from above and wishing you to heal from her passing. She is now at peace. Miss you Wendy!!!
